

CROSSWAYS

TRASNÚ – COMAR

Virtual Crossways 2021: The Irish Scottish Cultural & Literary Festival
Full details at crosswaysfestival.org

12-14 FEBRUARY 2021

There will be 15 literary readings and at least one musical event being streamed on our dedicated Festival website over the weekend of 12-14 February. Each one-hour reading will pair one writer from Ireland and one from Scotland. This year's festival has a particular focus on Irish-language and Scottish Gaelic writing. The cinematographer is Winnie Brook Young.

THE VIRTUAL PROGRAMME

FRIDAY 12 FEBRUARY (from 6.00pm)

Opening Welcome: Lisa Marie Joyce (Vice-Consul General, Consulate General of Ireland in Scotland), Maolcholaim Scott (Colmcille, Foras na Gaeilge), Chris Agee (Editor, Irish Pages:
A Journal of Contemporary Writing) and songs by Gillebrìde MacMillan

Three readings: Paula Meehan & Kathleen Jamie, Simon Ó Faoláin & Meg Bateman, Cathal Ó Searcaigh & Anna Frater

SATURDAY, 13 FEBRUARY (from 1.00pm)

Seven readings: Ceaití Ní Bheildiúin, Pádraig MacFhearghusa & GilleBrìghde Mac 'ille Mhaoil, Aifric Mac Aodha & Eòghan Stiùbhart, Gabriel Rosenstock & Garry MacKenzie,
Chris Agee & Kapka Kassabova, Peter Sirr & Robert Alan Jamieson, Jessica Traynor & Andrew O'Hagan

SUNDAY, 14 FEBRUARY (from 2.00pm)

Six readings: Ailbhe Ní Ghearbhuigh & Catriona Lexy Chaimbeul, Philip Cummings & Pàdraig
MacAoidh, Áine Uí Fhoghlú & Iain Mac a' Phearsain, Nuala Ní Dhomhnaill & Aonghas Dubh
MacNeacail, Biddy Jenkinson & Maoilios Caimbeul, Alan Titley & David Kinloch

IRISH PAGES
A JOURNAL OF CONTEMPORARY WRITING

Outstanding Writing from Ireland and Overseas irishpages.org

Le tacaíocht ó
 Foras na Gaeilge

Government of Ireland
Emigrant Support Programme
An Roinn Gnóthaí Eacshra
Department of Foreign Affairs